CANYON Services Group Inc.

1) Significant accounting policies:

a) Basis of presentation:
These financial statements include the accounts of Canyon Services Group Inc., consolidated with the accounts of its wholly-owned subsidiaries Canyon Technical Services Ltd. and Canyon Technical Services Inc., which was incorporated on May 15, 2007. These interim financial statements do not conform in all respects to the requirements of generally accepted accounting principles for annual financial statements. The Company's interim financial statements should be read in conjunction with the most recent annual financial statements. The Company's interim financial statements follow the same accounting policies and methods of their application as the most recent annual financial statements except where noted below.

Two new Canadian accounting standards have been issued which will require additional disclosure in the Company's financial statements commencing January 1, 2008 in connection with the Company's financial instruments as well as the Company's capital with a description as to how this is managed. In addition, there is a new standard related to the measurement and disclosure of inventory which will be applied retrospectively January 1, 2008. Management is assessing the impact of these changes.

b) Seasonality of operations:
The Company's business is seasonal in nature with the periods of greatest activity being in the first and fourth quarter, and the least activity tending to be in the second quarter because of spring break-up. Spring break-up typically occurs for periods of up to six weeks between March and May. The Company's operating activities can also be affected by extended periods of rainy weather which can result in restrictions to the movement of heavy equipment. As a result, March through May is traditionally the Company's least active time and as such the operating results of the Company will vary on a quarterly basis.

c) Financial instruments:
On January 1, 2007 the Company adopted the new accounting standards regarding the recognition, measurement, disclosure and presentation of financial instruments. The financial instruments must be classified into one of these five categories: held-for-trading, held-to-maturity, loans and receivables, available-for-sale financial assets or other financial liabilities. The new standard requires all financial instruments within its scope, including all derivatives, to be recognized on the balance sheet initially at fair market value. Subsequent measurement of all financial assets and liabilities except those held-for-trading and available for sale are measured at amortized cost determined using the effective interest rate method. Held-for-trading financial assets are measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognized in earnings. Available-for-sale financial assets are measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognized in comprehensive income until the investment is derecognized or impaired at which time the amounts would be recorded in net earnings.

On adoption of the new standards, the Company elected to recognize, as separate assets and liabilities, only for those embedded derivatives in hybrid instruments issued, acquired or substantially modified after January 1, 2003. The Company did not identify any material embedded derivatives, which required separate recognition and measurement.

The new standards require a new statement of comprehensive income, which is comprised of net earnings and other comprehensive income which may report the changes in fair value in, derivatives designated as cash flow hedges and available-for-sale investments and foreign currency translation. The Company had no “other comprehensive income or loss” transactions during the three and six months ended September 30, 2007 and no opening or closing balances for the accumulated other comprehensive income or loss.

2) Restricted cash:

This cash has been paid to a supplier's lawyer in trust and will be applied against future purchases of proppant from the supplier. It is restricted as it can only be used to pay the supplier in accordance with a delivery contract. It is expected that substantially all deliveries and all amounts under this contract are to be delivered and paid by December 31, 2007.

The term of the plan is 5 years, and at that time the President will receive an amount equal to the market value of the Company's shares in excess of the base value of the deferred share units.
